

Fram

Chenin Blanc

Vitner	Fram
Origin	Citrusdal Mountains, South Africa
Vintage	2018
Variety	Chenin Blanc
Wine Type	White
Wine Maker	Tinus Kruger

Vineyard Notes

A combination of two vineyards, the first from Piekensskloof ward in the Citrusdal mountain appellation, situated 520m above sea level on weathered granite. The second vineyard is in the Swartland, from the fertile Koffieklip soils to the north west of Malmesbury.

About The Winemaker

Fram is the personal passion project of Thinus Krüger, founded with the promise to “always sail into uncharted waters, to boldly search for whatever grapes lie behind the next hill, over the next horizon.” After over a decade making wine for other people, Thinus took his extensive experience to explore the outer reaches of the Cape wine lands, the here be dragons area of the wine map. In the spirit of exploration and discovery, Thinus works closely with farmers in the remote region of Clanwilliam, an area where the heat is fierce, yields are low, but quality is pristine for those who know how to manage the elements. In search of other special corners across the Western Cape, the regions of Robertson and the Swartland are also represented in the Fram range. Thinus asserts a quiet confidence – he knows grapes, and he knows how to let them shine. Vintage after vintage, Thinus never fails to impress in the quality and balance of his wines. “It’s not down on any map, true places never are.” – Herman Melville, Moby Dick

Wine Details

Alcohol	14%
Bottle Size	750ml
Bottles Per Case	12

